

Kelli Snache PAYING IT FORWARD

during the HOLIDAY SEASON

What I do:

I go out for coffee with a friend once a week. We sit in the Tim Hortons parking lot enjoy our beverage and chatting. Sometimes we are interrupted by someone asking for a few bucks to get a coffee or something to eat. I feel good about giving what I can to those who are less fortunate.

Suggestions:

Give to charities and feel good about sharing especially at this time of year.

Buy someone a coffee or sandwich if they ask for a few bucks.

Buy a gift for someone less fortunate.

Be kind.

Goodness happens to those who are good to others.
