

Raven Noganosh Thankful

This year, I am thankful to return back to work with my team.

I have been on maternity leave since April, and I know that I wanted to spend that time re-familiarizing myself with my team.

But for the most part, to spend the last few months with my Supervisor who is retiring next year.

I've spent so much time with her and she is so knowledgeable about families and the community, that I can't see her go.

Her nookmis energy will be deeply missed here, but I am so appreciative and thankful of her support, kindness, and wisdom that she brings.
